CITY OF NEW YORK

OFFICE OF THE POLICE COMMISSIONER

January 31, 1928.

Hon. James J. Walker,
Mayor of the City of New York,
City Hall, New York.

Sir:

Pursuant to the provisions of the Charter of the City of New York, I hereby submit to you the annual report of the Police Department covering the year 1927.

In reporting upon the activities of the department for the past year, I have divided the subject into four general topics: 1. Crime prevention and apprehension; 2. Traffic; 3. Other police activities; 4 Administration.

CRIME PREVENTION AND APPREHENSION

The continued reduction in major crimes during 1927, even in comparison with the record for 1926, is an indication of the continued efficiency of the police. The increase in personnel made possible by the action of Your Honor and the other members of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment has been an important factor in this continuing improvement. The re-organization of the department made by my predecessor, Hon. George V. McLaughlin (whose administration covers about three and one-half months of this report) has been another important factor. In a previous quarterly report attention has been drawn to the Baumes laws and the co-operation of the district attorneys and the courts. I repeat now what has been said before. All of these factors have been of material aid in cutting down serious crimes in this city.

ANNUAL REPORT OF

The accomplishments of the department would have been impossible, however, without your own intense interest in the department and your whole-hearted co-operation.

MAJOR CRIMES

The important facts relative to major crimes during 1927, compared with the two previous years, are:

MURDER AND MANSLAUGHTER CASES DECREASED 3.8 PER CENT AS COMPARED WITH 1926 AND 9.7 PER CENT AS COMPARED WITH 1925.

HOLD-UPS (ASSAULT AND ROBBERY) DECREASED 19 PER CENT FROM 1926 AND 35.8 PER CENT AS COMPARED WITH 1925.

BURGLARIES INCREASED $\frac{1}{4}$ OF 1 PER CENT FROM 1926 AND DECREASED 17 PER CENT FROM 1925.

FELONIOUS ASSAULT CASES DECREASED 4.4 PER CENT FROM 1926 AND 3 PER CENT FROM 1925.

GRAND LARCENIES DECREASED 9 PER CENT FROM 1926 AND 14 PER CENT FROM 1925.

The major crimes reported are shown, by totals, in the following table:

Cases Reported	1927	1926	1925
Murder or manslaughter	278	289	308
Assault and Robbery	951	1173	1483
Burglary	3380	3371	4103
Felonious Assault	2174	2276	2243
<hr/> Total	<hr/> 6783	<hr/> 7109	<hr/> 8137

Murders of citizens resulting from robberies decreased 58 per cent in 1927, as compared with 1926 and 61 per cent as compared with 1925. Murders of police or special officers by robbers decreased 44 per cent, as compared with 1926, and were the same in number as 1925. Of these cases in 1927, 14 out of 17, or 82 per cent, were closed with arrests.

HOLD-UPS (Assault and Robbery)

The continued reduction in hold-ups—the crime most feared by society—is one of the most striking accomplishments of 1927. The effects of the efforts of the Police Department to prevent hold-ups through better measures of protection are best shown by a reference to the hold-ups for the years 1927, 1926 and 1925, classified according to the property value involved and also as to the nature of the individual or premises held up.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT

Hold-ups involving more than $10,000 for the past three years were as follows:

1925	39
1926	33
1927	10

Decrease in 1927, compared with 1926, 69 per cent.
Decrease in 1927, compared with 1925, 74 per cent.

Hold-ups involving $1,000 or more but not more than $10,000 for the past three years were as follows:

1925	199
1926	140
1927	67

Decrease in 1927, compared with 1926, 52 per cent.
Decrease in 1927, compared with 1925, 66 per cent.

The 1927 hold-ups, involving $1,000 or more, are enumerated in detail in a Schedule attached to this report (see page 50).

The following classes of hold-ups showed decreases during 1927, compared with 1926:

ARRESTS OF GANGS

The apprehension during 1927 of various gangs and individuals, each of whom was responsible for several hold-ups and most of whom have been sentenced to long terms in prison, has resulted in clearing up a large number of these cases and ridding the city of their perpetrators for a long time to come.

Notable among these hold-up men are:

The "Laughing, alias Charleston, Gang"; involved in 18 hold-ups; four members sentenced to 30 year terms, three to 15 year terms and one to the reformatory.

The Hawkes "Payroll Gang"; involved in 5 hold-ups; one member sentenced to 60 year term; and three to 40 year terms.

The "Harlem Terrors"; involved in 19 hold-ups; five members sentenced to 15 year terms.

The "Colored and White Man Team," David Mitchell and Frank B. Moore; involved in 23 hold-ups; each sentenced to from 40 to 80 years in Sing Sing.

The "Alcohol Gang," responsible for two hold-ups involving large quantities of alcohol; One member sentenced to life imprisonment; one to 40 years and one to 20 years.

The "Big Brooklyn Gang"; involved in eight hold-ups; four members sentenced to 20 years and one to 7 years.

The Duffy Brothers; involved in two hold-ups; sentenced to 40 years each.

The "Harlem Team," involved in four hold-ups; shot by detectives in making the arrest; one sentenced to 40 years and one to 25 years.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT

The "Speakeasy Workers," responsible for two hold-ups of alleged "speakeasies," during one of which Patrolman James Masterson was shot and killed; one (Peter Seiler) was executed; one (Walter Tipping) shot and killed by members of Detective Division and one (Jerry Callahan) committed to insane asylum.

The "Aspirin Gang," responsible for two hold-ups involving a large number of furs and a quantity of aspirin; stolen property valued at $112,592 recovered; seven members sentenced to terms up to 20 years.

Details of gang arrests appear in an attached schedule (see page 40).

BURGLARIES

The total number of burglaries increased from 3,371 in 1926 to 3,380 in 1927. All classes of burglaries decreased, however, except one—daylight burglaries of residences, involving the operations of sneak thieves. Daylight burglaries of residences totalled 1,017 in 1927, as compared with 714 in 1926, an increase of 42 per cent.

The comparative figures for the other classes of burglaries were:

	1927	1926	Per cent. Decrease
Residence (night)	423	431	1.8 " "
Stores, etc.	1839	2075	11 " "
Lofts	17	41	58 " "
Safes	84	110	23.6 " "

Several important arrests for burglary were made during 1927. The "supper time burglar," Joseph Blattner, confessed to 26 burglaries in the Woodhaven section of Queens. All of the stolen property, except currency, was recovered.

The sentence of William Feuer to life imprisonment for receiving stolen goods is the first case on record of a life term for a "fence."

GRAND LARCENY

Grand larceny cases of a character permitting preventive measures by the police showed a marked reduction in 1927.

Thefts of automobiles in 1927, for the first time since the advent of the motor car, showed a decrease from the previous year. This decrease from 1926 amounted to 1,400 cars, or 11.6 per cent. Of the cars reported stolen 83.1 per cent were recovered—the highest average ever shown.

Pickpockets were responsible for 191 grand larceny cases during 1927, as compared with 269 for 1926, a decrease of 29%.

ANNUAL REPORT OF TRAFFIC

The task of moving traffic has become one of the most important functions of the Police Department. Necessary construction work on many of the most important thoroughfares in congested areas made this task particularly difficult during 1927. The rapid growth of the city and the steady increase in the number of automobiles is creating every year new areas of congestion within the city. To provide protection for those who use the streets in these newly developed sections, regulations making possible a more orderly movement of traffic has been one of the chief concerns of the police.

INCREASE TO FORCE

During the year 389 patrolmen have been added to the personnel of the Traffic Division and placed on duty at important intersections. Provisions for the appointment of 700 new men, most of whom will be used for traffic, were made in the budget for 1928.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS

The further extension of the traffic light system during the year provided protection at 425 additional crossings, doing the work of 850 policemen. Other systems, provisions for which were made in 1927, will give mechanical control of traffic at 1,308 additional crossings, including the greater part of Manhattan and many principal thoroughfares in the other boroughs. To cover all these crossings with policemen would require 5,000 men—twice the present personnel of the Traffic Division. At a number of these intersections, where the congestion is particularly heavy or special conditions exist, traffic men are on duty in addition to the lights.

The importance of traffic lights as a measure of protection to the persons who live in the vicinity, and have occasion to cross the streets, cannot be too emphatically stressed. On many of these thoroughfares every crossing is a danger point. The installation of lights on the streets covered by the program which is under way will be of great assistance in providing a safe and smooth flow of traffic and safeguarding pedestrians.

To make possible proper co-ordination and synchronization of the traffic lights in the congested sections of Manhattan, where many adjacent avenues will be covered by traffic lights, work was begun during the year on a central control station. Practically all of the traffic lights in Manhattan will be operated automatically from this station. This new control station, which will be in operation this spring, will enable the traffic officials to make experiments with timing schedules which are not possible under the present system of scattered control.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT

NEW TRAFFIC PRECINCTS

Supervision over traffic has been facilitated by the establishment during the year of two new traffic precincts, one in Manhattan and one in Brooklyn. The new precincts in conjunction with a plan of traffic subdivisions (established within traffic precincts, with headquarters at accessible patrol precincts), have enabled the higher traffic officers to keep in close touch with the men under their command.

SPECIAL REGULATIONS

Many special traffic regulations, affecting various localities of the city, were put into effect during 1927. The most important of these was that at the entrance and exit of the Vehicular Tunnel, opened November 13, 1927. The location of the tunnel made this task particularly difficult, due to the fact that traffic to and from the tunnel has to pass through one of the most congested sections of the city—Varick Street in the vicinity of Canal Street. Vehicles emerging from the tunnel have to cross one or both of these thoroughfares, each of which carries a heavier volume of traffic than the tunnel itself. This regulation has been so effective that not only has the tunnel traffic been handled without delay, but all traffic in the vicinity has been accelerated.

The 372 special regulations put into effect during the year provide, among other things, for the extension of the one-way street system in many parts of the city, the further limitation of parking on congested streets, the establishment of a traffic system in Central Park, the establishment of public parking spaces, numerous regulations designed for the safety and convenience of various communities in the outlying sections of the city, measures to make the streets safer in the vicinity of schools and hospitals, and other public institutions.

The establishment of new regulations and other measures for the improvement of traffic conditions has necessitated the placing of considerable new traffic equipment throughout the city. Nearly all of this equipment has been made and installed by the Traffic Division. The force and the facilities of their shop have been greatly increased during 1927. More than 4,600 pieces of equipment were installed, and 189,000 feet of white lines painted on the roadways of the city, principally in the vicinity of schools.

TRAFFIC SCHOOL

The efficiency of the Traffic Division has been increased by the establishment of schools of instruction for the traffic officers. All of the men on traffic duty are called in periodically to this school for instruction in the traffic regulations and uniformity in methods of traffic control, the mechanism and operation of the traffic lights, and courtesy to the public.

ANNUAL REPORT OF

BUSS TERMINALS

Conditions in the congested sections have been materially improved by an order requiring the so-called inter-urban busses and other such vehicles operating without a franchise or permit to provide terminals on private property. With the rapid increase in the number of such busses in New York City, their use of the streets as terminals threatened to cause a serious interruption to traffic.

ENFORCEMENT

Enforcement of the traffic regulations was another important activity of the Department during 1927. More than 203,039 summonses for traffic violations were served during the year by officers of the Traffic Division, the Motorcycle Division, and the patrol precincts. At the same time the practice of warning offenders for trivial violations and seeking their co-operation in the observance of the regulations was extended. In addition to verbal warnings, more than 15,000 warning letters were sent out by the Traffic Division.

ACTIVITIES AGAINST CRIMINALS

The officers of the Traffic Division, in addition to their other duties, were active during the year in the work of preventing crime and apprehending criminals. Many members of the Traffic Division performed extraordinary police duty in the arrest of persons committing major crimes and the recovery of stolen property during 1927, and their accomplishments were officially recognized by the award of Honorable Mention, Commendation, and Excellent Police Duty. Traffic policemen were assigned to many street intersections in the vicinity of banks and other places where large pay rolls are handled, and all members of the Traffic Division were instructed to give particular attention to the transportation of money and valuables, and vehicles carrying the same.

SAFETY MEASURES

Measures to make the city streets safer, not only through the regulation of traffic but also by educational work, has been one of the chief functions of the Department during the year. The scope of the educational work in the public and parochial schools, made possible through the co-operation of the school officials, has been extended, and various other plans for the promotion of safety have been adopted.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT

For the first time on record, the fatalities and injuries due to highway accidents on the city streets decreased in 1927, both in case of adults and in the case of children 16 years or under. The figures follow:—

	KILLED			INJURED
	Under 16 Years	16 Years and over	Total	Under 16 Years	16 Years and over	Total
1926 - - -	413	747	1,160	13,272	33,227	46,499
1927 - - -	408	730	1,138	12,241	28,981	41,222

In comparing these figures, note should be made of the fact that the city's population increased 46,783 during 1927 over 1926, and that the number of automobiles registered here increased 45,178 during the same period.

OTHER POLICE ACTIVITIES

COLONEL LINDBERGH'S RETURN

No public demonstration in the history of this city has equalled that which marked the coming to New York of Colonel Charles L. Lindbergh on June 14, after his remarkable flight from New York to Paris. The flyer's reception here surpassed in enthusiasm and in the number of people who turned out to welcome him, the scenes of Armistice Day, when the Great War ended.

The Police Department was put to a severe test, in handling the crowds that lined the streets from the Battery to the Mall in Central Park, along the route traversed by Colonel Lindbergh. The police also were put to a severe test in the harbor near the Statue of Liberty where the aviator landed in a sea-plane. The Harbor Police, had a difficult task confronting them, to keep the hundreds of boats of every description, which went down the bay to greet Lindbergh, under control and they succeeded. He landed safely in a lane of water kept free of all craft, and was picked up by a Police launch and transported to the S. S. Macom for his trip to Pier A.

There was not one serious mishap to mar the reception to America's most distinguished flyer.

You, yourself, witnessed the orderly manner in which the crowds were held in check at the City Hall. The same good order prevailed at the Battery, along the line of march, at the Eternal Light in Madison Square Park, and in Central Park, the other points where Colonel Lindbergh halted.

I call your attention to the cartoon, reprinted here by courtesy of The Evening World, as typical of the reaction evidenced in the newspapers of this city, in regard to the work of the Police Department on the day of Colonel Lindbergh's arrival.

ANNUAL REPORT OF

FUR INDUSTRY LABOR TROUBLES

When I became Police Commissioner, one of the problems of the Department was the situation arising from labor troubles, following a strike in the fur industry. There were frequent clashes, charges and counter charges of violence and graft.

A large force of additional men was assigned to the specific task of maintaining order in the fur district. Disorderly demonstrations on the streets were stopped and the extra police remained on duty until conditions returned to normal.

THREATENED SUBWAY STRIKE

We had, as you are well aware, the threat of a subway strike during the past year, which at the last moment was averted through your good offices. When it appeared as if nothing could keep the subway employees from going out, practically the entire man power of the Police Department was mobilized to meet the threatened emergency.

Superior officers were called back from vacations and no additional vacations were granted to officers or men, until the danger was over. The men of the Department took the hardship of reserve duty and the postponement and curtailment of well earned vacations admirably, in a manner to indicate clearly the pride that they feel in their work.

CLOSING OF IMMORAL PLAYS

One of the tasks of the year was the closing of certain Broadway plays, against which complaints of immorality were received. Some twelve plays were complained of, and after a searching investigation conducted by the police, arrests of players and management were made in the case of three plays.

One case never got beyond the Magistrates Court, as the management agreed to withdraw the production, and never revive it in this city. The players, with one exception, agreed never to appear in it, if it was produced by some other management.

The management and players of another drama were held for General Sessions, convicted by a jury, and the leading woman player, who was also the authoress, and the producers, received both a fine and short jail sentence. The production was abandoned.

The producers and cast of the third drama, were held for Special Sessions, and convicted and fined in that court.

It is not a function of this department to create a theatrical censorship, and no action has been or will be taken, except where the law is violated.

HIGH CREDIT TO THE POLICE

In welcoming the world hero in the most remarkable demonstration in its history on Monday, New York had some heroes of its own who are entitled to a word of special praise. Never has the city had more cause for satisfaction with its police, more reason for admiring their resourcefulness and judgment. With hundreds of thousands of wildly excited people pressing forward in the congested streets to catch a view of Lindbergh, the thin blue line of the police, stretched from the Battery to the Central Park Mall, maintained order—and without the use of clubs. Of the more than 8,000 officers intrusted with the task of preventing a hopeless confusion, with all that would have meant of injury to hundreds, only twenty-five, and these members of the emergency corps, had clubs. The clubs were not used.

In the midst of the parade, a fire necessitated the passage of the Fire Department through a street packed from building to building. With amazing rapidity, and without excitement or pushing, a lane was cleared as if by magic and the engines passed through.

The superb management on the part of the police not only reflects the highest credit on the force but upon the people as well. The blue coat and the star were enough without the club. The public respected authority. But the real heroes in the streets were the police themselves, who performed their onerous duties with a system and good humor that left no blur upon a perfect day of demonstrations by two million people.

Hats off to these boys in blue! New York has reason to be proud of the men who guard her peace.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT

THE SACCO-VANZETTI DEMONSTRATIONS

The agitation that prevailed in this city, just prior to the execution, in the State of Massachusetts, of Sacco and Vanzetti, who were convicted in that state of a murder committed during a hold-up with a gun, called for special police measures.

Large meetings were held at Union Square. Numerous speeches were made and thousands of radicals attended the gatherings, but, due to the police arrangements, there was little or no disorder.

ADMINISTRATION

NEW PRECINCTS

During the year five new precincts were established. The number of precincts abolished by a preceding administration presents a very difficult problem. The actual precinct houses given up by this department in most instances have been taken up and are now in use by other departments. Hence to restore the sufficiency of precincts will in many cases lead to the necessary acquisition of land and the erection of new buildings. A survey is being made by the department and a report will shortly be made to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

ADDITIONAL MEN

Through the action of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, 1,460 policemen were added to the department in the year 1927, thus further increasing the efficiency of the force.

TELEPHONE SERVICE

When I took over the administration of this department, I found a most inadequate and inefficient telephone service. After consultation with Your Honor, I took up the whole question with Mr. John S. McCulloh, President of the New York Telephone Company. I take this occasion officially to express my deep appreciation of the spirit with which he met my request for a survey of the telephone system of this department. He put approximately sixty men who worked for three months on the survey, which was submitted to Your Honor and discussed with other members of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. The work, with the authorization of Your Honor, has now been started. I am assured that it will be practically completed, without interruption of present service, about July 1 of this year, at only slight additional expense to the city, and that when it is completed the department will have the best police telephone service in the world.

EMERGENCY WAGONS

The superior officers of the department inform me that one of the most useful innovations we have had in the department is the so-called emergency wagons. Three of them are now operating in the city. I explained the need the department has for more to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and Your Honor and appropriations have been made for the current year to double the number of emergency wagons.

ANNUAL REPORT OF

THE POLICE RECREATION CAMP

The Police Recreation Camp, in spite of the adverse weather conditions during the Summer of 1927, attracted 1,665 adults and 263 children, an increase of 973 adults and 67 children over 1926. This patronage enabled the Camp to show a slight profit over the actual running expenses for the season. Representatives of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association and other police organizations, who are making strenuous efforts to popularize the Camp, feel that with good weather conditions the patronage of the Camp will provide sufficient funds, not only to pay all the expenses but also to show a profit on the expense of maintenance. All outstanding construction obligations were paid off during 1927 and the only expenses of the Camp in the future will be the actual running costs.

MOTOR EQUIPMENT

The motor equipment of the department was improved during the year by the acquisition of six high-powered cars, 148 small cars for patrol and nine patrol wagons. Some of these vehicles were for replacement purposes. Seventy-five motorcycles and twenty-five horses were acquired for replacements.

CONCLUSION

I regret to report that during the year seven officers of this department were killed in the performance of their duty. Of these, four were not actually on duty at the time and therefore deserve, perhaps, greater honor than the rest. They were all, however, heroes of whom the department is proud.

In addition to this 476 men received departmental recognition in the form of Honorable Mention (17), Commendation (312), and Excellent Police Duty (147).

It is obvious that the comparatively good showing of the department for the past year can not be attributed to any one man. Your Honor's consistent backing of recommendations made by the department has had much to do with the morale and success of the force. The fundamental thing, however, is the intelligence and loyalty of the force as a whole—both the uniformed and detective forces. Without this, the showing of the department could not have been as excellent as it is.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH A. WARREN,
Police Commissioner.

OWNERS AND DRIVERS WHO FAILED TO APPEAR FOR TRIAL, LOST BADGES, BOOKS, ETC.

Formerly 40% of chauffeurs and owners who were summonsed to appear at this office for trial and failed to appear, for which they were immediately suspended: Their papers were placed in the suspended files. Although, according to the records they were suspended, they kept on working, and in numerous cases they received additional summonses and ignored them.

Hack drivers and owners who changed their addresses and also the garage address without notifying this Bureau were also placed in the suspension file.

PRESENT METHOD

MONTHLY LIST

It is now unusual to have any absentees at the trials for the following reasons:

Each month a list is forwarded to all hack inspectors in precincts and members of the Investigating Squad attached to this office, showing the following:

All owners and drivers who have failed to answer summonses at this office, also those who failed to answer a court summons and for whom a court warrant has been issued. It also contains a record of all books, cards, license plates and badges reported lost; also a list of owners and drivers who failed to change their home or garage address and finally a record of all taxicabs who had failed to report for their quarterly inspection. This list resulted in the apprehension of a large number of persons wanted by this office and also in the arrest of others who were found in possession of badges and books that had been reported lost.

BOILER SQUAD

All persons now receiving permits or licenses to operate boilers, firemen, ice machines, etc., are required to have their photograph attached to each license or permit, same as the procedure prevailing on hack drivers and pistol licenses.

The following is a report of the operations of the Boiler Squad during the year 1927:

Detectives Thomas J. Martin, Shield No. 532; Stephen G. Donahue, Shield No. 575; Francis J. Teed, Shield No. 289, and Thomas A. Brady, Shield No. 1047, all attached to the 17th Division. At about 6.25 A. M., February 8, 1927, the Detectives entered a bungalow at Old Forge, New York, and encountered two men who had killed a policeman during a holdup. Shots were exchanged; Detective Martin was wounded; one of the bandits was killed, and the other disarmed and arrested.

NOTE—In some of the total columns it will be noticed that the number of dispositions is in excess of the number of complaints or arrests for a given year. This apparent discrepancy is due to the fact that a number of cases of previous years were disposed of in the year in question, and consequently, included in the total for that year. For instance, a number of burglaries might have been committed in 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925 and 1926, which were not finally disposed of in the courts until 1927. The disposition of these cases, consequently, could not be included in annual reports for 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925 and 1926, but would appear in total of the dispositions for the year 1927.

The same applies to all offenses regardless of the nature of them. One of the greatest obstacles to make an annual report balance exactly is the frequency with which crimes have to be re-classified. What appears to be a simple assault finally has to be entered on the records as a homicide, due to the unexpected death of the victim. The same applies to all offenses, which often change their character and seriousness with the accumulation of pertinent evidence.
